

Do you have a valuable product, service, or expertise that will make life better for a WECA Member Contractor?

Introduce your Products and Services to:

- Hundreds of Electrical and Low Voltage Contractors across the West, as well as their office and field employees
- Thousands of Industry Followers
- A Nationwide Training Audience
- The Electrical and Low Voltage Industry Leaders of Today and Tomorrow

WECA Industry Partners have the chance to connect, share their messaging, and promote their products and services to an extensive base of politically-involved business owners, their employees, and industry advocates across the Western United States. These contractors know and trust companies affiliated with WECA.

WECA is a trade association dedicated to meeting the needs of independent electrical and low voltage contractors. The quality of its apprenticeship and training programs is known throughout the industry.

WECA promotes merit shop electrical contracting as the most valuable, qualified choice for the electrical and low voltage construction industries. In addition to world-class apprenticeship and training programs, WECA also provides the business services that help our member contractors succeed and grow--including introducing them to the companies on our select list of industry partners.
