

JUMP START YOUR ELECTRICAL CAREER

Congratulations -- your application has been accepted! You will be contacted in the future for an applicant testing session. Invitations to testing are based on the program you have applied for, the date of your application and the hiring needs of WECA contractors in the area you live. Check out information about testing requirements and application resources here.

Want to "Jump Start" your journey to an electrical career? Here are some friendly tips that are open to all, and which can help to speed things along:

1) Use the WECA California Contractor Member Directory to visit the websites of WECA members and see what positions contractors are looking to fill, and what skills they're looking for.

2) Update your resume and post it on WECA's "Electrical and Low Voltage Industry Job Board."

3) Browse jobs here. WECA member contractors may have open entry-level positions in your area.

Want to take an even bigger jump? Further suggestions:

4) Become an Electrician Trainee and get hired by a WECA member contractor. You can gain valuable experience, and get a head start on your education. Some WECA member contractors prefer to see individuals succeeding in the Electrician Trainee program before they'll register them as an apprentice. Get more information and get started today!

5) Now that you're an Electrician Trainee, you can sign up for WECA's Student Referral Service. This free service helps match you to WECA contractors looking for electrician trainees.
